

Split Part Allocated Shipments

When a shipment is part allocated and has the trailing/leading status of in-pool, users will be able to split the shipment. When the shipment is split, it will place the unallocated details into the new shipment and leave the details that are fully allocated in the original shipment.

